1. The SDBOR recognizes that faculty, staff, and students may use names other than their legal names to identify themselves. Employees shall make reasonable efforts to reference students and employees by their chosen name when calling that person by name in the course of university business and education, when the speaker (or person otherwise referencing the student or employee) knows the chosen name or reasonably should know the chosen name.

2. All students, faculty, and staff at South Dakota Board of Regents institutions are able to submit their “preferred name.” Preferred names shall not be used for the purpose of misrepresentation, to avoid legal obligations, or in any other manner that violates university policy or federal, state, or local law. Recognizing the importance of classroom collegiality, preferred names may not include symbols or numbers, be unlikely to be approved as legal names (e.g. be obscene or derogatory), or otherwise violate university policy. Each university shall develop a process for reviewing and responding to preferred name requests for students, faculty, and staff.

3. When a student, faculty, or staff chooses to use a preferred name, it will appear in all Regental systems and platforms where preferred name is used.
