Pagones and Krogman Reappointed as Regents

PIERRE, S.D. – Gov. Mike Rounds has reappointed Carole Pagones and Dean Krogman to six-year terms on the South Dakota Board of Regents.

“I am pleased these dedicated public servants have agreed to continue their service as regents,” Gov. Rounds said. “I appreciate their steady and thoughtful leadership in governing South Dakota’s system of public higher education and its constituent institutions.”

Pagones, Sioux Falls, is retired from the Main Street Sioux Falls organization, where she served as executive director and later as development director. A Brookings resident, Krogman is vice president of governmental relations for the South Dakota State Medical Association and broker/owner of a real estate firm in Brookings.

Gov. Rounds also thanked Richard Belatti for his six years of service as a regent. A retired physician from Madison, Belatti retired from the Board of Regents earlier this month after completing his term. “Doc’s genuine concern for students was always evident, and he strongly supported many initiatives to assure a quality education for students at our public universities and special schools,” Gov. Rounds said.
