

Students Bring Research Work to State Capitol

(Photo by SD Board of Regents)

Undergraduate students from South Dakota colleges and universities demonstrated the importance of research at the 2014 Student Poster Session in the Capitol Rotunda March 6. They presented their projects to state lawmakers and Gov. Dennis Daugaard. Pictured are (front from left): Derek Stotz, South Dakota School of Mines & Technology; Vanessa Little Bear, Sinte Gleska University; Subodh K. Singh, Sinte Gleska University advisor; Ashley Wiley, Dakota State University; Larissa Kempf, Northern State University; Ashley Wingert, Black Hills State University; Windy Whirlwind Soldier, Sinte Gleska University; Gov. Daugaard. Back row from left: Andrew Pierson, South Dakota School of Mines & Technology; Alex Olinger, South Dakota State University; Taylor Suess, South Dakota State University; Megan Ingebrigtsen, University of South Dakota, Camille Griffith, Oglala Lakota College; Tyson Lager, Augustana College; Kathryn McHenry, Black Hills State University, Erik Muckey, University of South Dakota.